The afore-mentioned vehicles shall be sold as seen. Those wishing to participate in the auction are invited to view the vehicle by appointment only with the Embassy’s auctioneer. Agreement to participate in the auction is deemed as acknowledgement and acceptance of the terms and conditions stated in this public announcement. All prospective bidders may not request the auctioneer to make any alterations, modifications or replace any parts of the vehicle before or after the agreed sales.
Prospective bidders must submit their bid prices, no lower than the evaluated bid price set by the Embassy. The bidder who offers the highest amount shall be announced as the successful bidder. The successful bidder should either make full payment immediately or a deposit of 15% of the total value of the vehicle to the Embassy’s account department, together with proof of identity. The Embassy shall then issue the payment receipt accordingly.

If a deposit is made, the outstanding balance must be settled within five working days from the date of the bidding. Before the vehicle can be collected, the Embassy’s administration team will then advise the auction winner of the registration procedures with the DVLA. The auction winner shall be responsible for the DVLA’s registration fee, as well as delivery, and other related expenses.

If the winning bidder fails to settle the full payment within the set time frame, the Embassy shall assume that the bidder has waived his/her right to acquire this vehicle. The deposit shall then be forfeited, and the auction winner has no right to claim for a refund or seek any compensation.

The bidder must not seek mutual benefits with other participating bidders or must not conduct any act that would hinder a fair outcome of the auction.

The Embassy bidding committee members have no right to participate in the bidding process or to nominate others to bid on their behalf.
